

Spring 2020

....for those of you who sometimes think God has forgotten you.

While traveling from Savannah, GA to Lakeland, FL our bus broke down. It began overheating and coolant was leaking. I pulled over and found that a small coolant hose, about 8 inches long, had split length wise. It was a moulded silicone heavy duty truck hose. I knew it would be very difficult to find unless I ordered one from the manufacturer. Usually getting a part takes 2-3 business days. I thought maybe I could find some tape to repair it temporarily or another piece of hose to rig in place 'till I could get the right one.

I went to my odds and ends bucket in my bus and..... low and behold.... the EXACT HOSE WAS SITTING RIGHT THERE. I was so blown away! We've had this bus for 12 years. I don't ever remember buying that hose. I don't even remember seeing it before... I'm sure there's a "logical" explanation for this. The previous owner probably bought it and had it as a spare, "just in case" hose; but, I kinda think, 12 plus years ago, GOD knew EXACTLY what I was gonna need at 11:28 AM on Feb 11th, 2020. Now, I recognize being stuck on the side of the road, needing to get the bus towed, and then sitting somewhere waiting for a part is a "first world" problem. Many people have much greater problems and the answers don't seem to come even though they pray. I don't understand all those things and I'm not sure I ever will, but I know this, God, at this time in my life, gave me EXACTLY what I needed, when I needed it. I'm so thankful for His goodness to me. If God can take care of such small details in my life He can certainly handle all the other challenges. Just putting this out there for those of you who sometimes think God has forgotten you.

WHAT GOD IS DOING

This winter God began dealing with Lloyd about getting out of his comfort zone and adding new content. He fought the insecurity he felt over coming up with new messages, buckled down and got to work. He watched some videos on sermon prep, worked out some of the bugs of a message he had been using, then pushed himself to begin working on what God was laying on his heart; a message on fear and anxiety.

The closer it got to the date, the more he was tested on that very subject. As he fought the rising anxiety some important truths became evident to him.

Reading Psalm 104:5, “You placed the world on its foundation so it would never be moved”, God began to remind him of His incredible power. He remembered learning at Kennedy Space Centre that the amount of sky a dime, held at arm’s length, covers is more than a billion stars. If God can keep the world on its foundation in the midst of millions of galaxies and trillions of stars, He is wonderfully able to help us if help is needed. This gave him such comfort and confidence to prepare and deliver this timely message.

One lady in particular shared with him how this message was exactly what she needed to hear as she was heading into a career change. In light of the fear many are facing with the corona virus, I urge you to remember the God who placed the world on its foundations, and know He is wonderfully able to take care of you.

Pray with us for...

1. Divine connections
2. Divine protection from spiritual attacks on us and our family
3. Fresh vision
4. A revival to come as a result of the pandemic Covid19

Praise God with us for...

1. Safety in our travels
2. Some time to rest and revitalize
3. Hearing from people how the message has turned things around in their lives
